MARCUS D'MELLO

In today's Gospel, Jesus asks Peter, "Do you love me?"—not once, but three times. And each time, He follows it with a call to action: "Feed my lambs. Take care of my sheep." This wasn't just a moment between Jesus and Peter; it is a message meant for all of us. Like Peter, we're invited to say, "Yes, Lord, I love you." But love isn't just words—it's lived out in service. If we truly love Christ, we're called to care for His people, to lead with compassion, and to be His hands and heart in the world.

SHARELIFE: LIVING THE GOSPEL BY PROVIDING FOR THOSE IN NEED

On the second ShareLife Sunday, we call upon your compassionate hearts to support your vulnerable brothers and sisters in need. More people than ever are turning to our agencies for help. The kindheartedness of ShareLife supporters like you enables access to essential programs and services, such as the treatment program and transitional housing at St. Michael's Homes. Your support was transformative for Jack. After a knee injury left him jobless and addicted to pain medication, your compassion gave him a safe place to overcome his addiction and rebuild his life. Please give at the parish using a ShareLife envelope, online through our parish website, or at share-life.org/donate.

Holy Spirit, comfort Your Church in this time of mourning, and help us carry forward his mission of compassion, justice, and unconditional love.*

LEARNING TO TRULY LOVE CHRIST

When Jesus asks Peter if he loves Him, He first uses "agape" — unconditional love — but Peter responds with "philia," the love of friendship. By the third time, Jesus meets Peter with "philia," showing that He meets us where we are. In the same way, Jesus accepts our current love and gently leads us toward deeper love and commitment.

He is Risen!
